

CONTENTS

---

List of Illustrations	ix
Acknowledgments	xi
Preface	xiii
INTRODUCTION
The Problem of Poverty in Literary Criticism	1
ONE
Beggaring Description: Herman Melville and Antebellum Poverty Discourse	21
Paradigms of Poverty and Pauperism	23
Literary Uses and Abuses of Poverty	28
The Ambivalence of Thoreau and Davis	32
Redburn and Israel Potter : Transatlantic Counterparts	38
Melville's Sketches of the Mid-1850s	46
Poor Pierre	52
Problems of Need in The Confidence-Man	59
TWO
Being Poor in the Progressive Era: Dreiser and Wharton on the Pauper Problem	62
Writing Poverty	65
The Persistence of Pauperism	72
What's the Matter with Hurstwood?	76

	The Class That Drifts	80
	Fear of Falling	85
	The Feminization of Poverty	88
	Poor Lily	92
	Class and Gender	100
THREE
The Depression in Black and White: Agee, Wright, and the Aesthetics of Damage		106
	Understanding the Depression	110
	Agee's Uncertainty	116
	Damage and Disadvantage	120
The Beauty and Erotics of Poverty		124
Race, Class, and Poor Richard		129
American Hunger		139
Delinquent Identity		144
		148
CONCLUSION
Notes		155
Works Cited		201
Index		219